

IASSID Logo.

As yet no copyright has been taken out on the IASSID logo. A copyright would protect the logo internationally and prevent its use, without prior permission, by individuals or organisations.

Use of the IASSID logo -

Executive Members are entitled to use the logo in furtherance of their agreed duties.

Appointed organisers of the IASSID Regional Congresses and members of the Programme Committees for the World and Regional Congresses are entitled to use the logo in the furtherance of their conference organisation duties.

SIRGs of the IASSID are entitled to use the logo in furtherance of SIRG business. This could include using the logo on letterhead, publications, (once the criteria of the Publications Committee have been met), advertising events such as workshops, seminars, roundtables.

Organisational, individual and research centre members may apply to the Secretary of the IASSID to use the Association's logo in relation to IASSID related business. The Secretary of IASSID may, following discussion with the Executive, authorise use of the logo.

In authorising the use of the logo, the Secretary in correspondence, will specify its uses specific to the usage applied for and limited to a fixed time period.
