2 Days with David Hingsburger

Listen Up! Helping People with Disabilities

Two day-long presentations and discussion on how we can address the well-being of people with disabilities, and to recognize when we are being part of the problem and not part of the solution. This workshop would be of interest to parents and professionals helping people who have complex medical or mental health conditions and/or severe learning, behavioural or developmental disabilities. Dave makes us laugh while we learn, and he always inspires us!

Biography of David Hingsburger

Dave works providing direct service to people with intellectual disabilities. He is the Director of Clinical and Educational Services for Vita Community Living Services and a primary consultant for the Sexuality Clinic at York Simcoe Behaviour Management Services. Dave also works in private practice as a consultant for schools, parents and agencies in a variety of areas regarding service provision to people with intellectual disabilities, focusing primarily on problematic sexual behaviour, understanding problem behaviour and abuse prevention. Dave has published over 30 books, has lost count of the number of articles he has had published in magazines, newspapers and journals. He has appeared a number of times on television as a "talking head" regarding disability issues. Dave wrote and narrated the controversial radio documentary "Life, Death and Disability" for the CBC.

Dave lectures extensively. He has given keynote presentations nationally and internationally. Educationally, Dave earned his B.A. in psychology at the University of Victoria in British Columbia, a certificate in Human Relations from Ryerson in Toronto, and his M.Ed. from the University of Toronto. In the fall of 2009, Dave was inducted into the Canadian Disability Hall of Fame.

Preliminary Agenda—Day 1: Communication: Who's Listening

Effective communication with people with disabilities begins with an evaluation of attitude, power and prejudice. This session will have the participants examine the role that power plays in their interactions with those with disabilities and will give each an opportunity to practice new ways of understanding, listening and relating to people with intellectual disabilities.
